DANNY SHAY READY TO JOIN CARDINALS

SHAY ACCEPTS OFFER OF CARDINALS OWNERS.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL.

San Francisco, May 3.—Stockton Danny Shay late tonight accepted the offer of the St. Louis management, and next Monday will defect for the Bucs to join the team on its regular staff.

He has refused to play with the St. Louis team up to date, as his salary was not as large as he imagined, and also stated that he did not wish to play in the West, where there are so many changes in the weather. But inducements held out to him finally caused him to change his mind. A guarantee of $1,000 for two seasons and all expenses are the terms Shay has accepted.

Stockton, Calif., May 3.—Danny Shay, the little infielder, has about decided to return to St. Louis. The proposition made to him by the Bucs in the last two weeks is acceptable, but Danny has stated that he will not come unless his contract remains intact, as the figures agreed upon for 1904, 1905, and 1906, that the Bucs will meet the demands.

Shay was not as severely injured as reported, and he should be here in a day or two, and may be able to play right into the fire by the time he reaches St. Louis.

The speedy little fellow recovered his pep and strength rapidly, and now has a half interest in a professional short course here. Still he feels for a renewal of his major league career.

He comes to St. Louis with a great deal of interest, and is sorry disappointed by the poor showing of his former teammates, the San Joaquin Vikings.

One of the best prospects in the country, if not the best, is the young Danny Shay, who will undoubtedly sign to St. Louis.

Shay's practical acceptance of the terms offered to him by the St. Louis management, that the Bucs are to add him to their regular staff, and close the fact that the Cardinals were in need of a captain, undoubtedly influenced him to make his decision.

At the time of Shay's coming he was not considered a particular find. There was a general opinion that the Cardinals were in need of a captain, instead of a short course player.

A telegram from the Cardinals suggested the name of Danny Shay, and as fast as telegrams could be exchanged between the Cardinal management and Danny, the latter had signed to St. Louis.

During the winter of 1904-1905, when a fainting spell followed Mr. Phillips' diagnosis, he was unable to play, but was soon able to do so again.

At the time of his diagnosis, suggested the name of Danny Shay, and as fast as telegrams could be exchanged between the Cardinal management and Danny, the latter had signed to St. Louis.

At the time of Shay's coming he was not considered a particular find. There was a general opinion that the Bucs were in need of a captain, instead of a short course player.

As a fielder, Shay has an surprise when he is in the middle of the game, but when he takes them out at short a 200' cap, which is not so bad for a fielder.
